

HIGH SCHOOL CONSERVATION TOUR—Arthur Wintzer, in foreground wearing cap, is explaining a farming phase to Dr. B. K. Barton, director of Conservation Education, Springfield, as Soils Scientist Don Wallace (wearing hat) of the Mt. Vernon area office, Soil Conservation Service, talks about soil structure to Saline county high school students interested in conservation. The tour was arranged by the Saline County Soil Conservation district with Tom Morgan, farm planner in charge. Nearly 100 students from Harrisburg, Galatia, Carrier Mills and Eldorado were on the two tours held Monday and they will write about what they saw and heard in the district's essay contest, for which the Saline County Bankers association has donated $100 for contest prizes. Rotary Promotes Understanding, Governor Says

Rotary clubs in 102 countries throughout the free world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace. That was the message of Willis G. Swartz, of Carbondale, Governor of District 651 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary club of Harrisburg Monday, following a conference with local Rotary officers and committee chairmen.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 9,500 clubs within their own communities to promote this objective, Mr. Swartz explained, Rotary International has spent more than $2,250,000 in recent years through its program of student fellowships, which enables outstanding college and university graduates to study for one year in countries other than their own, as Rotary ambassadors of good will. Since 1947, when this program was established, 957 Rotary Fellowships have been awarded to students in 61 countries for study in 42 countries, with grants averaging $2500. This past year, John Ziegler, of New Athens, studied at St. Andrews, Scotland, under such a Fellowship grant.

"With fellowship and service to others as its keynote, Rotary provides a common ground for 446,000 business and professional executives throughout the free world, regardless of differing nationalities or political or religious beliefs," the Rotary District Governor emphasized.

"In addition to the promotion of international understanding," Mr. Swartz continued, "special emphasis is being placed by Rotary clubs in this district, which includes 48 Rotary clubs in southern Illinois, on community improvement and higher ethical standards in business and professions."

Mr. Swartz urged the local Rotarians to attend the Rotary District conference to be held in Carbondale in March, and to make plans for the Rotary clubs to be represented at the 49th annual convention of Rotary International, which will be held in Dallas, Texas, next June.

10-Day Trip Ends

Queen Leaves

NEW YORK (UP)—Queen Elizabeth II left for home early today and it was almost as if a fairy queen had come and gone.

She and her prince charming for 10 days took Americans' minds off Sputnik, the Mideast and domestic headaches.

Elizabeth had many things to those who welcomed her and her husband, Prince Philip, wherever they went—Ottawa, Jamestown, Williamsburg, Washington and New York.

To her own folks in Canada, where she paid her first call, she was a real personage, to be treated almost reverently.

In the United States, she became an earthy "Lizzie," "Liz" or "Hiyah, Queen." But she also represented the storybook queen of our childhood.

President Eisenhower saw the Queen as a "symbol" of the link between the two English speaking peoples whose interests are the same.

Field Trips Made By High School Students to Study Soil Conservation

Saline county high school students who plan to participate in this year's Saline County Soil Conservation district essay contest took field trips Monday to get some first hand information about conservation practices.

The scene of the trip was the Arthur Wintzer farm about three and a half miles east of Harrisburg. Experts in the field of conservation were on hand to talk to the students and to illustrate what they were talking about.

At a morning session from 9 to 11 a. m. there were 37 students from Galatia high school. From 1 to 3 p. m. 40 students from Eldorado, 15 from Harrisburg and two from Carrier Mills took the field trip.

Tom Morgan, farm planner of the Saline County Soil Conservation district, told the group that the essays could be written about what was seen and heard on the trip plus any additional material on conservation the writers wished to use. The Saline County Bankers association has donated $100 in prize money for the contest. First prize will be a $50 government bond.

Illness Hits Eldorado High

A "large number" of Eldorado Township High school students were absent from school Monday and again today with colds, but the illness has not been pronounced as flu.

Principal J. Ward Barnes revealed the unusually large number of absences Monday and today and said reports were the illness followed the pattern of hacking cough, running noses and slight temperature.

Eldorado physicians who had treated the students said they did not think it was Asian flu and did not recommend closing the school.

The illness hit the football squad, with several varsity players missing Monday afternoon practice and another player was not in school this morning.

Gridgers not answering roll call Monday were Jerry Rains, Gary Reasons, Free Pool, Parvin Coker, Gary Bray, Olsen Wheeler and Louis Bertino. Lester Feunquay was absent today.

During the course of a trip were the following:

Soils Scientist Don Wallace of the Mt. Vernon area office of the Soil Conservation office showed the students the structure of flatland and upland soil, discussing their formation and how drainage was affected.

Don Johnson, engineer from the Mt. Vernon area office, discussed and showed the following conservation practices: Tow wall, grass waterway, pond, diversion terrace, concrete flume.

Mr. Morgan in his remarks tied together soil survey and conservation practices and what they mean in terms of proper land use and crop rotation.

L. B. Kimmel, Saline county farm adviser, discussed the importance of pastures and livestock in Saline county agriculture.

H. E. Gearhart, area conservationist from Mt. Vernon, discussed the history of Soil Conservation districts and the service they render.

Dr. B. K. Barton, director of Conservation Education, Springfield, discussed the importance of various conservation efforts made by all the departments in the state.

Carl Vance of Carrier Mills, member of the board of directors of the Saline County Soil Conservation district, told the group the work the district is doing with the students of the county.

Death Takes Mrs. George Riley Sr., 62, Stonefort Resident

Mrs. Ella Riley, 62, wife of George Riley Sr., Stonefort, died in the Lightner hospital, Harrisburg, at 5:30 a. m. today, following a long illness. She had been a patient at the hospital for about 2½ months. She was the daughter of Lawson Deaton and the late Laura Deaton, of Stonefort. In addition to her husband and father, she is survived by her twin sister, Mrs. Luther (Eva) Buchanan of Eddyville and her brother, Rev. Alden Deaton, Golconda.

The body will lie in state at the Thornton funeral home in Stonefort Wednesday morning and the funeral will be held in the Stonefort Baptist church at 2 p. m. Thursday. Rev. George Smith will officiate and burial will be in the Bolton cemetery.

Mayor Robert Wagner and some 2,500 other guests; dinner with the Pilgrims and the English Speaking Union; and the final event in an eventful day, the Commonwealth Ball. This full-dress shindig was sponsored by 58 associated Commonwealth societies. Some 4,500 persons packed the 7th Regiment Armory to watch the Queen, in diamond tiara and jeweled evening gown, review honor guards from the United States and Canada.

Shortly after midnight the bubble-topped limousine which President Eisenhower lent royalty for its visit pulled away from the Armory. With motorcycle escort it headed for Idlewild Airport.

Syria Invites Hammarskjold To Mid-East

Suggests Action By UN to Avert War with Turkey

By United Press

Syria suggested today the United Nations send Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to the Middle East to try to avert a war between Turkey and Syria.

The suggestion was made in Damascus by Socialist Akram Hourani, leftwing speaker of the Syrian Parliament, who said Syria would throw open its borders to investigation if Turkey and Israel do the same.

Some Western sources saw this as a move to drag Israel into the dispute between Turkey and Syria and said it possibly could make the situation more difficult. Israel did not reply at once.

Hourani's suggestion came as the United Nations General Assembly called a meeting for this afternoon to begin formal consideration of Syria's complaint that the United States urged Turkey to attack the Arab nation.

The United States, victim of an unprecedented Russian propaganda attack, said it welcomed U. N. debate on the charges which has led the Middle East to the verge of war.

Although Hourani invited a U. N. investigation, Syria spurned an offer by King Saud of Saudi Arabia to mediate the dispute. Turkey accepted the offer.

Hourani told United Press correspondent Peter Webb in Damascus he believed Hammarskjold, a veteran of "secret diplomacy" attempts to end past Mideast tension, should go to the Mideast because he was impartial.

"We have nothing to hide," the powerful Syrian politician said.

Today was the second day that the Mideast crisis appeared to be easing. The statement that Turkey had accepted Saudi Arabia's mediation offer helped cool things today.

Gala Opening for Elks Minstrel Wednesday Night

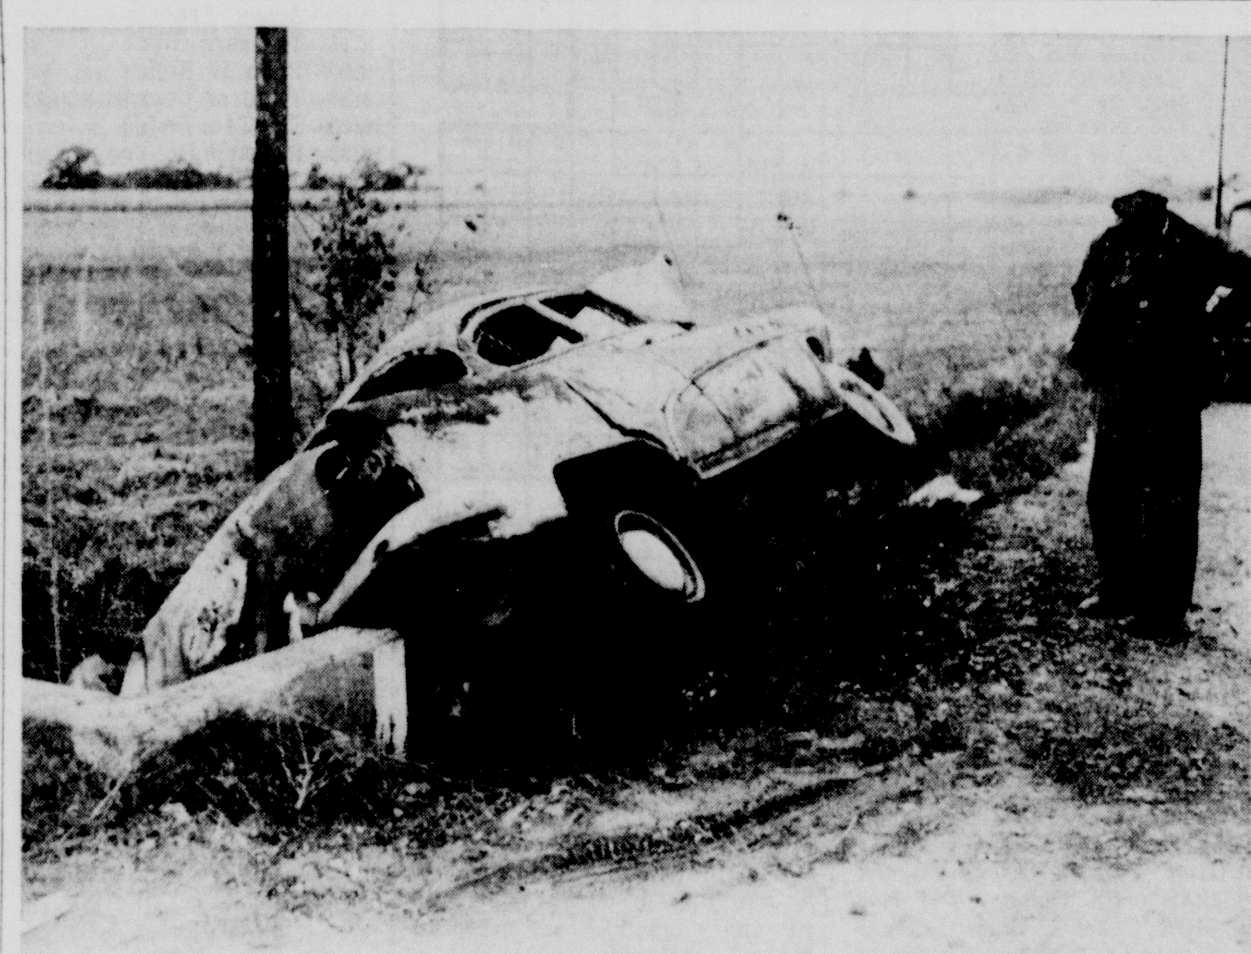

The eighth edition of the Elks Minstrel which will open Wednesday night, October 23, at the Grand Theater, will be a spectacular affair featuring search lights and beautiful organ preludes by Mary Jeanette Parker. The patrons at tending this performance will receive the "red carpet" treatment and the opportunity to participate in a "man on the street" interview on a live radio broadcast through the courtesy of radio station WEBQ and Millard Lynch, and greeted by the announcers Bob Davenport and Wayne Dixon.

The second part of the show will be a real old time minstrel dressed up a bit to fit the western theme of this year's show "Dudes and Dames." Dr. H. J. Raley will serve as Interlocutor and the End Men will be Bill Scribner, Buck Schriener, Charlie Skaggs, Bob Wilson, John R. Small and Marion Bradley. Members of the minstrel chorus are Pat Woolcott, Jane Hunsinger, Barbara Thompson, Jane Ratcliff, Dorothy Bradley, Lucille Schriener, Betty Franks, Patty Davenport, Jean Gaskins, Mari Buchanan, Bonnie Small, Joan Boots, Ruby Short, Joyce Moore, Becky Barnhill, Val Oshel, Bill Williams, Harry Elmo Wirth, John Bozeman, Vern Joyner, Roy Small, Bill Brashears, Jack Davenport, Charles Ford, George Wright, Roger Wiley, Carl Beggs, and Richard Webb.

A prediction that capacity audiences will witness each performance of this year's Elks Minstrel was made today by Thorald Gaskins, chairman of the General Admission Ticket committee. Mr. Gaskins said, "I suggest that anyone who wishes to see our show, which promises to be the biggest and most elaborate home talent production ever staged in Harrisburg, get their tickets now." He added that this is the only way a guarantee can be given that seats will be saved. If all of the tickets are sold prior to the performances, there will be, of course, no tickets placed on sale at the box office. Tickets are available from any member of the Harrisburg Junior high school band, at Ray's Drug store, Skaggs Pharmacy and Grant's Jewelry store. Reserved seats are available at the Moore Pharmacy in Harrisburg and Hobb's Jewelry in Eldorado.

Certain time is 8:15 p. m. Wednesday and Thursday, October 23 and 24.

House is Destroyed, Auto Burns; Firemen Kept Busy

Bombs In Saigon Hurt 19 Americans

Army Officers, Enlisted Men Hurt When Terrorists Blast U. S. Installations

SAIGON (UP)—Left-wing terrorists hurled three bombs at American vehicles and installations in central Saigon today, wounding 19 U. S. Army officers and enlisted men.

The U. S. information building was badly damaged.

The 19 Army men were wounded in the explosion of two plastic bombs outside U. S. military billets here where the American Army is helping the government of free Viet Nam build up its strength against the Communist north.

Official South Vietnamese sources blamed Communists for the three blasts which came while President Ngo Dinh Diem, one of the most outspoken anti-Red leaders in Asia, was entertaining representatives of 21 Asian nations, many of them neutrals.

No one was reported injured in the blast which wrecked the library although the building contains apartments upstairs for U. S. Embassy employees.

Fly Wounded to Manila

Eight of the Americans were wounded so seriously they were flown to Clark Field in Manila for hospital treatment. Five others were released after being treated at the U. S. Army dispensary.

The first bomb, apparently a time bomb, exploded outside Five Oceans Hotel, a U. S. military billet. It injured American military men waiting for a bus.

The second bomb was hurled under a military bus outside the Hotel Metropole. The two hotels are about a mile apart.

The third bomb exploded inside the U. S. Information Service library, knocking down bookshelves and blasting out windows. The library was closed at the time, a factor which averted casualties.

Driver Escapes Unhurt

The bomb thrown at the bus from a passing automobile also injured four or five Chinese and Vietnamese on the street. Another Chinese was blown off his bicycle. He was treated at the site of the bombing.

The bus was demolished but some passengers and the Vietnamese driver escaped unhurt.

Eldorado and Carrier Mills Trucks Help Out

Home Burns at 1315 Hobson; Auto Owned By Noble Woolard

A house was destroyed by fire and an automobile burned up on a busy Monday afternoon during which the Eldorado and Carrier Mills fire departments were called to this city.

And the Carrier Mills fire department had one put-out job to do while standing by.

Destroyed was a house at 1315 South Hobson owned by Mrs. Jewel Ficus and occupied by the Jim Stokich family and an automobile owned and driven by Noble Woolard of Eldorado.

The afternoon of activity started at 1:30 when the No. 1 fire truck

ANOTHER HOUSE FIRE LAST NIGHT

Another house fire in Harrisburg sent the fire department to 801-A West Church after ten o'clock last night. The house was owned by Mrs. Mary DaMosso and occupied by Mrs. Evelyn Smith and children.

Fire Chief L. G. Martin said the fire was caused by a defective flue and there was damage around the fire and in the living room.

Mrs. Smith, whose husband is working away from Harrisburg, moved into the house Saturday.

left for a grass fire at the home of Mrs. Grace McCormick in the 700 block of West Lincoln avenue.

Save Food Market

Two or three minutes after this truck left the fire station a call said the house on Hobson was afire. The No. 2 truck then went to this address, firemen finding the house blazing all over when they arrived.

No. 1 truck put out the grass fire hurriedly and went straight to the house fire, with both trucks hooking to hydrants and throwing four streams of water onto the big blaze.

They succeeded in saving Jewell's food market, to the south, and the residence of Hattie Malone to the north. These buildings were scorched but did not catch fire. However, observers said that except for the fine work of the fire department it would not have been long until they would have been blazing, too.

Too Late to Save Car

The Carrier Mills and Eldorado pumpers were called, Carrier Mills standing by at the fire station and Eldorado truck going to the scene of the house fire.

While at the fire station, a call came in that a car was burning on Route 34 at the Bishop service station between Harrisburg and Raleigh and the Carrier Mills pumper hurried to the scene and put out the blaze, but it was too late to save the car.

State Policeman Adolph Sweat, also called to this scene, said the car, a 1955 Buick, was being driven southward by Noble Woolard, Eldorado, and that when Woolard slowed down to turn right on the gravel road near Bishop's, a car

List Three Oil Operations As Producers

Two oil operations in Tate and one in Raleigh were listed as producers in this week's oil report.

C. E. Brehm's G. R. Johnson "A" No. 3, SW c SE SW, 20-7s-5e (Tate) made a well in the Aux Vases with initial production of 250 barrels per day after fracture.

Another Tate operation of Brehm, the Ralph Smith No. 3, SW NE NW, 29-7s-5e, also made a well in the Aux Vases with initial production 100 barrels per day on pump.

The Raleigh Producer was the Eugene E. McConnell et al No. 1, NE NE NE, 29-8s-6e, which had initial production of 76 barrels of oil and 35 of water per day on pump from the Aux Vases.

Dry and abandoned were: The Breuer and Curran Westbrook No. 1, SE NW SE, 9-8s-7e (Eldorado); The Texas company's R. J. Karnes No. 1, SE NE NW, 9-8s-6e (Raleigh); and Athene's Bennett No. 1, NW SE NW, 6-8s-6e (Raleigh).

Rossellini, Ingrid Reunited; Spike Reports of Break-Up

PARIS (UP)—Hotel clerks zealously guarded today the privacy of Ingrid Bergman and Roberto Rossellini, reunited for the first time in 10 months marked by a spate of rumors of a divorce.

The ardent reunion at the Paris airport Monday between the Italian film director and his Swedish-born actress wife spiked the reports that they were breaking up over an Indian woman.

Rossellini branded "ridiculous" the reports which had linked his name romantically with that of Mrs. Sonali Das Gupta while they were making a film in India.

Meeting at Vienna

Welcome Visitors, Speaker Tells Shawnee Hills Ass'n Members

Illinoisans to the north are eager for new recreational areas, George Culleton, educational representative of the State Department of Conservation, told those attending the October meeting of the Shawnee Hills Recreation association at Vienna Monday night, and urged that southern Illinois welcome and entertain these people.

Mr. Culleton said there was more space and more desirable areas available for development in southern Illinois and said that visitors to scenic areas and hunters will advertise the hospitality of this region if welcomed by the local inhabitants.

He was one of several on the program, held at The Hut a short distance west of Vienna.

Ass'n Praised by Hughes

Goffrey Hughes, executive director of Southern Illinois Inc., stressed the improvements in the Egypt economic outlook, telling of new factories and of the expansions at Norge, Olin Matheson and Allied Chemical.

Mr. Hughes praised the efforts of the Shawnee Hills Recreation association and complimented the work of Rex Karnes of Southern Illinois university, who has been closely associated with the SHRA from the start, for guiding the 1,000 East St. Louis Girl Scouts on their visits into the scenic area, and praised the work of the many guides for the hundreds of automobiles on the fall color tours.

He announced plans for a brochure guide to the little known scenic spots off the beaten path. He also revealed SHI to conduct a tour by bus to entertain Col.

Sweitzer, new head of the East St. Louis branch of the Corps of Army Engineers. Prominent local company officials, public officials and leading citizens will accompany the tour to see resources along the proposed Big Muddy canal and Rend lake.

Plan Tour for Legislators

The following week a similar tour is planned for the State Legislative commission arranged by Sen. Glen O. Jones and Rep. C. L. McCormick.

The State Geological Survey announced an Earth History tour starting at Millstadt high school at 9 a. m. Saturday.

Next Sunday's auto fall color tour, it was announced, will leave from southeast of Harrisburg at 10 a. m. Nov. 3 at 10 a. m. the auto caravan will meet in Ava at Miller creek. Nov. 10 it will assemble at the Eddyville school.

Lowden Pankey of Harrisburg was honored for the work done to promote southern Illinois on the Pankey Bakery television program.

Orval Nelson suggested devoting a full meeting for C and E I railroad officials at Goreville in December. He said years ago there were railroad excursions to big cities and now is the time to start excursions from the big cities to recreation areas in southern Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Collins of Eldorado showed pictures and invited visitors to the Eldorado Art Center.

Next meeting will be at Golconda Nov. 23. Cong. Kenneth J. Gray will be guest speaker.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

That ye may lead a quiet and peaceful life in all godliness and honesty. I Tim. 2:2.

We once knew a brilliant engineer who said honesty is not the best policy. He ended his days wearing second hand clothes and an object of charity in the home of his daughter. Those who say all rich men are scoundrels are teaching their children to be dishonest and end their days in poverty and disgrace.

To the Queen, Welcome

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

America is never happier as host than when it is welcoming the British royal family to its shores.

This must be especially true this time, the first visit Queen Elizabeth had made to this country since she ascended to the throne.

Americans have a warm place in their hearts for this lovely young woman upon whom have been thrust public responsibilities and burdens far beyond the normal call.

She is gracious and charming, soberly capable, possessed of a high sense of duty. Her natural bearing is regal, reminding one of that very symbol of royal dignity, the late Queen Mary.

Yet withal there is really no stiffness or stuffiness in her make-up, as we found in her last visit here, as Princess, some years back. Critics at home who talked of her "school-girl priggishness" seemed to many in America unduly harsh, and without understanding of the monarchy's symbolic stature.

It is not that the monarchy should resist all change. Quite the contrary. Obviously it must move to fit the times in which it resides.
But it must bend slowly, conscious always of its high value of a kind of spiritual cement for free men of good will in many lands which pay it allegiance in one degree or another.

Elizabeth II's empire is not the vast array of rich and scattered territories it once was. It has shrunk as emerging peoples in Asia and Africa have lifted their heads in independence.

Nor is her homeland the powerful military and political force it was up to the years of World War I.

Yet the British with their remarkable heritage, their sturdy character and their talent for politics and diplomacy, still stand as a great factor for freedom. And we have no stouter friends anywhere on earth than these who have given us so much of our own heritage.

We rejoice to have the Queen and her handsome husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, among us.

We greet her as a cherished personal friend whom it is always a delight to see.

We extend our hand to her, too, as the eminent representative of a distinguished nation whose continued enlistment in the embattled cause of freedom is vital to all liberty-loving peoples.

The WASHINGTON
MERRY-GO-ROUND
by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
New York's Mayor Wagner
Stands On Dignity, Did Not Meet Queen's Train; Royal
Guests Tighten Up White House News Channels; Cong.
Cellar's Oil Probe Stirs Justice Department Into Action.

WASHINGTON. — Mayor Bob Wagner of New York, who would not receive King Saud of Saudi Arabia but did receive Archbishop Makarios of Cyprus, played it very safe with the Queen of England. When the Queen's special Baltimore and Ohio train arrived in Staten Island, the mayor was not on hand to meet her. He waited until she arrived at city hall.

Quite a hullabaloo was raised when Eisenhower previously declined to meet the president of Brazil, the president of Italy, the king and queen of Greece, and other chiefs of state when they arrived at Washington airport or Washington Union Station. He waited at the White House. In the case of King Saud, Ike made an exception and went to the airport. This was why British officials made sure that the President would put the Queen of England at least in the same category as the king of Saudi Arabia and go to meet her at the airport. He did.

But the mayor of New York is a law unto himself. He claims that proper protocol required that he await the Queen at City Hall.
Another mayor, born in Ireland, warmhearted Bill O'Dwyer, did not follow this policy. I recall that when I arrived in New York with the Friendship Train, Mayor O'Dwyer did not wait at city hall, but went down to The Battery at the lower tip of Broadway to meet me and ride up Broadway in the same car.

But Mayor Wagner, whose father was born in Germany, will wait in regal splendor in city hall to meet the Queen of England, whose ancestors likewise were born in Germany.

Note—Up for re-election next month, the mayor figures there are a lot of Irish voters plus some Greek voters in New York.

WHITE HOUSE NEWS CURTAIN
The problem of getting news out of the White House is becoming more and more difficult. White House correspondents recently made a formal protest against the brushoff given them by new Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy. He was a lot different from garrulous Charlie Wilson, his predecessor.

About ten days before the arrival of Queen Elizabeth, the UP's Merriman Smith, dean of White House correspondents, had a showdown with White House press secretary Jim Hagerty. Smith had made repeated queries on various questions, was unable to get answers. Finally he said:
"Up in Newport we couldn't get anything from the President because he was on his vacation. Now the excuse is that he's busy getting ready for Queen Elizabeth."

"I can't see that he has to do much to prepare for the Queen's visit. He goes to meet her at once. And he gives her a dinner.
What is keeping him so busy? Is he going to cook the meal?"

News still continues tight around the White House.

BIG OIL VS. LITTLE OIL
In the days when trust-busting Thurman Arnold was keeping an eagle eye on big business as head of the Justice Department's antitrust division, he brought a historic suit against the big oil companies for getting kickbacks from the oil pipelines they owned.

With the oil moguls paying less to pump their oil through their subsidiary pipelines, the independent oil companies were out of luck. They couldn't compete. Arnold won his case and got a consent decree limiting the oil companies to a seven-per cent profit of their pipelines.

But like many consent decrees in antitrust cases, it has been flagrantly flouted. The oil companies thumbed their nose at the court and Attorney General Brownell's Justice Department did nothing about it.

Finally, Congressman Mannie Celler of New York announced an investigation. Three weeks after his announcement, the Justice Department figured that it might be shown up in a bad light. So it got busy, filed suit against Standard Oil of Indiana, owner of the Service Pipe Line Company; Tidewater Oil Company, owner of Tidal Pipe Line Company; Arapahoe Pipe Line Company, owned by Sincclair Refining Company and Pure Oil; and the Texas Pipe Line Company, owned by the Tex-ac Company.

Congressman Celler has already accomplished a lot, but he'll go ahead with his probe anyway.

ONE MAN'S SACRIFICE

Some people claim Washington is a stony-hearted city, full of bureaucrats, retired Army-Navy officers, defeated politicians who think more about the places they came from than the city in which they now live. Maybe it used to be that way. I don't know.

But I do know that the other day I was sitting with a man who was busier than the proverbial one-armed paper-hanger, but who took time out to do all sorts of things for his community. He was never too busy to handle the drive for Christmas Seals, or the Red Cross, or the campaign to aid crippled children, though he was the head of the Hecht Company and three big department stores.

I was with Harry Davidow that day, planning a campaign to aid juvenile delinquency through the Big Brothers. With us was Herbert Goodman of Remington-Rand, another busy man who can always find time to help others.

We worked for more than an hour. Outside Davidow's office other people were waiting. We left. Shortly after we left Harry Davidow suffered a stroke, never relied. He died giving himself to his community.

Harry Davidow was a Jew, Herb Goodman, who is heading the Big Brothers funds drive, is a Catho-

Russian Roulette Victim

PRINCESS ANNE, Va. (AP)—Pvt.
Norman J. Harshburger, 21, of Wyano, Pa., killed himself in a game of Russian roulette while he and his girl friend watched television here Saturday. Police said Harshburger shot himself as he and the unidentified girl watched TV in a trailer owned by another soldier.

More than a century ago, in 1850, James Young discovered the process for getting coal oil from coal and shale and by the time of the Civil War more than 30 plants were producing the fuel.

District 30, P.T.A., Holds Annual Meeting, Election at Junior High

Mrs. Guy Garrison, New Haven, Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, presided in the absence of Mrs. Wendell Bramlet, at the annual District 30 conference, held in the Junior high school building Monday evening. Mrs. Robert Steinbrook was in charge of the election of officers and the registration was supervised by Mrs. Mattie Cummins, registering for Hardin county, Mrs. Jewel Smith, Pope county, Mrs. Betty Reynolds, Gallatin county, and Mrs. Barbara Rice, Saline county.

Outstanding speakers included Frank A. Bridges of Carbondale, Safety and Civil Defense chairman, I. C. P. T., who spoke about the hazards in the home, on the highway and in industry, with farm accidents leading all other industrial accident figures. He then spoke of the very real progress being made to educate all ages of people against the mounting toll of accidents, especially the children, emphasizing the need for the schools to have safety programs which take into account the safest places for their charges in time of windstorm warnings and perhaps civil defense alerts.

Mrs. George B. Carty, Marion, made a graphic appeal for all P. T. A. groups to use the fine literature which is distributed for program use to presidents and group leaders by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Russell Malan, superintendent of the Harrisburg schools, welcomed the delegates and guests; Rev. William Burroughs led the invocation; Scout Troop 13 made the presentation of colors and Bruno De Giacinto, scoutmaster, led the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

During the voting, the Junior high school band played a concert under the direction of W. W. Chunn.

Mrs. John C. Wilson, president of the Harrisburg council and general arrangements chairman for this meeting, reported on the registration and Mrs. Robert Steinbrook reported a unanimous ballot for Mrs. Guy Garrison for Director of District 30.

A New Haven delegate invited the district to meet there for the 1958 meeting.

Mrs. Margaret P. Hart, scholarship chairman, made a report on her department and an effective appeal for the studied consideration of its expansion and recognition of its vital influence on the future of the nation.

The meeting was adjourned and a social hour followed with coffee and cookies being served. The coffee table, presided over by Mrs. Morris Skaggs and Mrs. Noble Mitchell, was festive with pink chrysanthemums and silver coffee services.

From where I sit...

clothes DRY BETTER . . . electrically

From where I sit "washday fatigue" and clotheslines are things of the past. No more wet, heavy wash to carry or hang. I simply load my automatic electric dryer and set the dial. Even baby garments dry soft, fluffy and sweet-smelling.

Weather worries are forgotten, too. My clothes dry night or day . . . rain or shine. The low-cost, easy way.

Why not see the new electric dryers at your favorite appliance store now?

Today's living calls for an all-electric kitchen. The new electric ranges, water heaters and refrigerator-freezers bring you all the convenience, beauty and service you could want in a modern kitchen. Electric dishwashers and garbage disposers make those clean-up jobs a breeze.

From where you sit, you could be living better . . . electrically, too.

Happy Home Makers Meet With Mrs. Roberta Barnett

The Happy Home Makers Home Bureau unit met in the home of Mrs. Roberta Barnett, Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. with the following members present: Mrs. Norma Wise, Mrs. Thelma Perkins, Mrs. Velma Gasaway, Mrs. Maggie Wise, Mrs. Gaynelle Hilliard, Mrs. Meredith Fox, Mrs. Emma Lou Lane, and the hostess, Mrs. Roberta Barnett. Visitors were the new home adviser, Mrs. Lady Martin Hunt and the members' children, Jimmy Wise, David Hilliard, Allen Lane, and Connie Louise Lane.

Roll call was answered with, "How I can and will cooperate with my unit membership plan." The minor lesson, "Home Medicine Chest," was given by Mrs. Gasaway. The major lesson, "Arranging Furniture," was presented by Mrs. Hunt. A masquerade party was planned for Tuesday evening in the Pierson school basement.

Busy Woman's Class Holds October Social

The Busy Woman's Bible class of the First Methodist church met for its October social at 7 p. m., Oct. 15 in Wesley Center. The meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Mrs. Carrie Barter. The meeting opened with a hymn followed by a prayer led by Mrs. Addie Ferrell. Mrs. A. I. Bair presented a combined devotion and lesson on "Faith and Prayers."

Mrs. Madge E. Dillworth and Mrs. Minnie Richmond were reported to be ill, but Mrs. Lill Conover was reported to be much improved, and expects to attend the November meeting.

Pumpkin pie, whipped cream and coffee were served by the following committee: Mrs. Verna Lindsay, Mrs. Archie Chapman, Mrs. E. L. Norman, Mrs. A. I. Bair and Mrs. Dorothy Cooley. There were 26 members present.

Rainbow Staff Welcomes Martins to Harrisburg

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. George Martin of St. Louis, Mo., following the addition of Mr. Martin as a registered pharmacist to the Rainbow Rexall Drug store staff, a potluck dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keltner, 115 East Rose street, Sunday.

In attendance were other employees at the Rainbow Rexall Drug store, excepting Mrs. Freda Keltner, Charles Fulkerson, Mrs. Opal Duncan and Charles Dunning.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Conover and children, Sally and Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chaney and son, Jimmy, Mrs. Emma Abell and children, David and Elizabeth, Mrs. Lillie Chitty, mother of Mr. Keltner, and Mr. and Mrs. George Martin.

The afternoon was spent in group singing and just getting acquainted.

Calendar Of Meetings

The Dorcas Sunday school class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church will meet Thursday with Mrs. Stella Oshel, 213 McHaney street, Harrisburg, for a potluck supper at 6 p. m. The supper will be followed by the class meeting and election of officers will be held.

The Harrisburg Home Bureau unit will meet at 2 p. m. Friday in the home of Mrs. Harold Parker, 20 West Logan street. Members will please note the change of the meeting place.

His Disciples class of the Dorrisville Social Brethren church will meet at 7 p. m. today in the home of the teacher, Mrs. Cordelia York. This will be a Halloween party and the guests must come in costume or pay a fine.

The Ruth circle of the W. S. C. S. will meet with Mrs. B. G. Funkhouser at 2 p. m. Wednesday. Cars will leave from the church to take those wishing transportation. Members are asked to be at the church at 1:30 p. m.

The Circles of the W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist church will meet Wednesday at 2 p. m. as follows: Dorcas with Mrs. Clifford Stricklin, 105 West Elm; Martha with Mrs. Mark Burnam, 429 West Sloan; Naomi with Mrs. J. H. Cummins, 309 McHaney street; Ruth with Mrs. B. G. Funkhouser, RFD 1; Lydia with Mrs. W. J. Cooley, 913 South Granger with potluck dinner at 12:30 noon.

Midweek service at the First Methodist church will be Wednesday at 7 p. m. in Hall Chapel. The regular meeting for the commission of missions will be held immediately after the midweek service.

Communications Blamed
One and one-half million persons perished from famine in Bengal, India, during 1943, primarily because of poor communications, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Golden Rule Circle Holds Two Meetings

The Golden Rule circle of the First General Baptist church held two meetings last week. The Halloween social was held in the home of Mrs. Wanda Lee, 621 West Lincoln street, and after the unmasking, the president, Mrs. Harvey Deaton, opened the meeting. Mrs. Chris Church read the minutes and the group joined in a prayer. Following the closing hymn, Mrs. Silas Black closed the meeting with prayer. Refreshments of pumpkin pie, coffee, Kool-aid and candy were served to the guests. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Texal Parrish, Mrs. Opal Tarlton and Mrs. Betty Ledbetter.

The circle held its monthly potluck supper in the church at 6:30 p. m. Saturday. Mrs. Otto Cummins arranged the flowers in the center of the table and Rev. Cummins asked the blessing. Those attending were: Mrs. Harvey Deaton, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Black, Mrs. Edna Sourlock, Mrs. Wanda Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Harris, Mrs. Joe Maszaros, Mrs. Nell Dooley, Rev. and Mrs. Otto Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Brinkley, Mrs. Ona Melton, Mr. and Mrs. Hez McCuan, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Church, Mrs. Texal Parrish, Mrs. Silas Black, Mrs. Wattie Rogers, and the children: Jackie Ann Lee, Phyllis Jean Harris, Marilyn Hicks, Patty Hicks, Linda Deaton, Larry Nolen and Kevin Shaw. Many of the women and some of the children attended both meetings. Those who were not mentioned above and attended the Halloween party were Mrs. Jim Shewmake and Mrs. Edna Logsdon.

Friends and Neighbors Welcome Returning Howard Bradens

Frands and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Braden gathered at their farm home at Goreville Sunday, to welcome them home after a number of years' absence at Dixon.

The highlight of the day was a basket dinner at the noon hour, with a variety of foods fit for the kings.

Mr. and Mrs. Braden were extended very best wishes for the future, by the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Noel Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Somers, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bozarth, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbern Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Cleen Bond, Mrs. James Bond, of Brushy; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Braden, of Carrier Mills, R. 1; Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Wilkison and Mrs. Edna Cox of Harrisburg.

Miss Betty Partain Married To Don Dilback Of Detroit

Miss Betty Partain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lon Partain, Dorris Heights, was married to Don Dilback, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Proctor, Detroit, Mich., in the home of Rev. John Yuhus at 6:30 p. m. Saturday. A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents. Miss Margie Partain, sister of the bride, and Jim Proctor, half-brother of the bridegroom, were their attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Dilback left for Detroit Sunday morning where Mr. Dilback is an employee of General Electric and where they will make their home.

A bridal shower was given for the bride-elect on Oct. 11 in the home of her parents. Refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, dinner mints and cold drinks were served.

Those attending the shower and who admired the many gifts sent by those present, and many who were unable to attend, were: Mrs. Bill Gholson, Mr. and Mrs. Gloria Hall, Mrs. Dan Davis and Bill Hall, Mrs. Willard Fleming, Mrs. J. T. Moore, Mrs. Raymond Ledbetter, Mrs. Max Swan, Mrs. Dorman Glass, Mrs. Doug Ledbetter, Mrs. Elgin Dilback, Mrs. Beal May, Mrs. Paul Kimbro, Mrs. Raymond Beck, Mrs. Wade Duncan, Mrs. George Mays, Mrs. Ronald Matthews, Mrs. Robert Rumsey, Mrs. Randall Cushist, Mrs. Elmer Holland.

Mrs. Robert Sims, Mrs. J. D. Douglas, Mrs. Glen Stallins, Mrs. Charles Cain, Mrs. Herman Conover, Mrs. Otto Barnett, Mrs. Marvin Barnett, Mrs. Bob Williams, Mrs. Kenneth Patterson, Mrs. Lawrence Vinyard, Mrs. Bill Hawkins, Mrs. Mary Jane Rice, Mrs. Claude Hargrave, Mrs. Toral Cook, Mrs. Mary Hall, Ted Hall, Mrs. Walter Vinyard, Dianne Xanders, Mary Lou Roberson, Margie Partain, Mrs. Tom Fritts, Mrs. Maude Malone, Mrs. Mozelle Spencer, Mrs. John Partain, Mrs. Bill Endsley, Mrs. Gay Brashear, Lavonda Lowe and Mr. and Mrs. Partain.

Births

Sgt. and Mrs. Robert "Poke" Tucker are parents of a boy, born Oct. 15 at Mojave, Calif. The baby has been named Robert Stephan and weighed six pounds, 12 ounces at birth. The mother is the former Miss Myrna Gee. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles "Huck" Gee of Harrisburg. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Tucker, also of Harrisburg.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

The comforts of life are very important to the average American. We give a great deal of attention to the softness of chairs and beds. We want our plane, train and bus seats to recline for comfort at the touch of a finger. Our windshields and our glasses must be properly tinted to give ease to our eyes.

It is strange that we give so much attention to physical ease when we show so little concern for spiritual satisfaction. We invite worry and hatred into our lives. We hide our belief in God when we associate with non-religious people. We weaken our spiritual senses with the narcotics of worldliness.

There is no spiritual comfort in running a way from God. There is no peace in the wars of the character. The outer man and the inner spirit must find unity of existence or the real man will be destroyed. God's ways must rule the whole person. Our spiritual comfort must command as much attention as our physical ease.

Sales of Small Foreign Cars in U. S. Increasing

DETROIT — Americans this year will buy twice as many foreign cars as they did last year — the little midsize cars that seat around the suburbs and run from 30 to 60 miles on a gallon of gas.

Auto makers concede it is one of the most significant trends in the industry, but there is considerable disagreement whether American manufacturers should enter the field themselves.

Sales of small European cars in 1957 will total something like 180, 000. It is interesting to note that is about the same figure the new Edsel will be shooting for its first year.

Hundreds of dealers who have American car franchises now are handling foreign car lines.

Fail to Stir Hearts

Highway Safety Does Not Keep Pace With Health, Welfare Fields: Dearborn

CHICAGO (UP) — The head of the National Safety Council said today the safety movement has not kept pace with strides in other health and social welfare problems because it has "failed to stir the hearts of our fellow countrymen."

Ned H. Dearborn spoke at the opening session of the 45th National Safety Congress. More than 2,000 safety experts from across the nation and from 20 foreign countries are attending the five-day meeting.

Dearborn said impressive gains have been made in saving lives through medical campaigns, but only small decreases have been achieved in the traffic toll.

"We in the safety movement have failed to stir the hearts of our fellow countrymen," Dearborn said. "There are scores of other worthy causes which arouse widespread support — heart ailments, cancer, tuberculosis, polio, muscular dystrophy and currently Asian flu, to mention only a few."

"Why, in the name of humanity," he said, "don't the American people react in the same degree to the terrible toll of accidents—95,000 killed in 1956 alone, more than a million injured, many thousands of them permanently, and an economic loss of 11 billion dollars?"

Dearborn said business has recently taken positive action against off-the-job accidents, but labor is "still a weak safety voice," women are "nowhere near as active in the safety field" as in other welfare work, and schools and colleges "have made only a good beginning."

Dearborn urged a new look at the council's program by all scientists from psychologists to mathematicians. He also suggested an intensive and continuing study on the basic causes of accidents, an evangelistic zeal for accident prevention and a re-examination by safety leaders of their own efforts.

Galatia High School Carnival Thursday, Oct. 24

The annual Galatia high school carnival, featuring an afternoon parade, games and concessions of various kinds and the Queen and King Coronation ceremonies are scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 24. The carnival starts at 7 p. m.

Queen candidates are Jo Dene Anderson, Barbara Hale, Arlene Pemberton, Wanda Foster and June Bond. King candidates are Phillip Odle, Jim Woolard, Wayne Thornberry, Jesse Lukancic and Don Clarida.

Each club of the Galatia high school will sponsor a concession stand and plenty of entertainment and food will be available. Clubs planning to operate stands include the F.H.A., F.F.A., G.A.A., Commercial, Music, Literature, Science, Industrial Arts and "G" award winners.

At 1 p. m. Thursday a parade, with clubs and classes sponsoring floats, will start from the school. The parade route has been announced as follows: start at the high school, travel south across the state highway, west on Church street, then south to the nursing home, then to the Post Office, north across the highway to the grade school, then east to the high school.

Arkansas is one of the most important sources of cinnabar (the ore from which quicksilver is made) in the United States.

THE CANVAS DAGGER

by HELEN REILLY

THE STORY: A scrap of fabric links the dead man found in the lane with Aunt Grace's cottage. He had been wrapped in a blanket stolen from the cottage, which Sarah Casement is occupying temporarily. Officers find signs that the man was murdered there. Then his body was thrown in a pond. Later, after it was discovered, the body was stolen from the undertaker and put in another cottage which was set afire.

XVI

When Sarah went in the Task house was a beehive. The news of where the dead man had been killed was already public property. A policeman had been in to talk to Carlotta. "You poor dear," she cried when Sarah went in. "Of course you're going to stay here. You should have stayed here from the first. The stone house—and we walked into it last Saturday afternoon... Isn't it frightful?"

The phone rang and half a dozen people sprang to answer it. The call was for Sarah. It was Tom Gillespie. When he called her at the stone house he had gotten a policeman. "What's going on?"

She told him. An unknown man had come to Grace's house and had been killed there sometime on Saturday. His body had been thrown into the pond Saturday night, the night of the party. It might have remained in the channel indefinitely; it had been discovered, by accident, too soon to suit the killer, who had neatly and expeditiously removed it from the undertaker's wagon while the undertaker and Sproul were playing poker down the road. That made it look almost certainly as though the murderer was someone in Cornwall.

Tom said he was coming over and Sarah listened to the talk while she waited. Felix Satterlee remarked that they had been in considerable danger, and that they were lucky they hadn't seen anyone or anything. A desperate man wouldn't have hesitated to take steps to silence them.

Diana Satterlee took him away. She looked at her watch and moaned dramatically. They exclaimed at the time. They were supposed to leave for the south in three days and there was so much to do and the packing had scarcely been touched—"Come, Felix." She was carelessly peremptory.

He went like a lamb. With no change of expression, he was on his feet. "Yes, Di, yes, you're right of course."

Amused glances followed their exit, and there were remarks. "Diana certainly leads poor Felix around by the nose, doesn't she?"

Tom came then. He gave Sarah a scrutinizing glance. "Put a coat on, we can't talk here." They drove over to the old Coast Guard station. He parked in the enclosure above the beach and drew Sarah into his arms. Sarah told him about the broom in the end chamber and the scrap of blanket and the blood under the eaves, sitting with her head against his shoulder.

He was deeply disturbed. When she finished he was silent for a moment, then he said, "Love me, Sarah?"

"You know the answer to that, Tom."

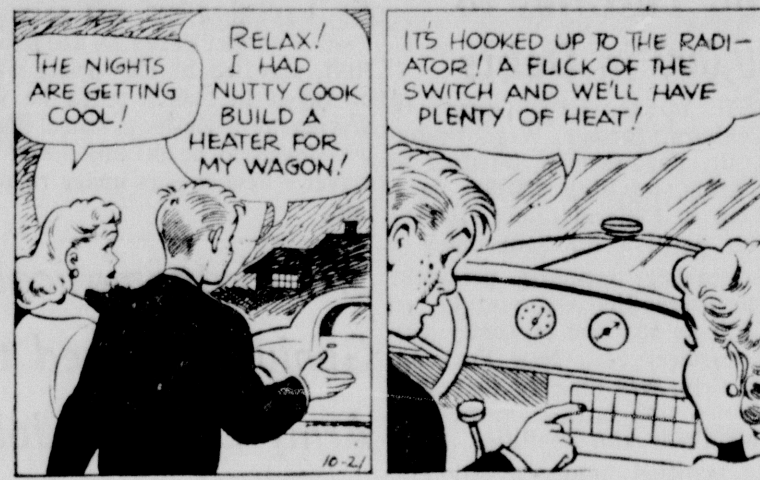

"Then you're going to do what I say. You're going to get out of Cornwall. You've told the police all you know. If you tell them that you've got to get away but that you'll be available if they should want you, I don't think they'll try to keep you here. You were in the stone house Sunday morning when someone went up into that end chamber to clean up. I know you didn't see anyone, but whoever was there doesn't know it." He waited for Sarah to speak.

Sarah sat straight. She said in a troubled voice, "Two murders... Do you think there's any connection between Grant Melville's death and the man who was killed in the stone house?"

Tom shrugged. "I don't know. There's no apparent link..."

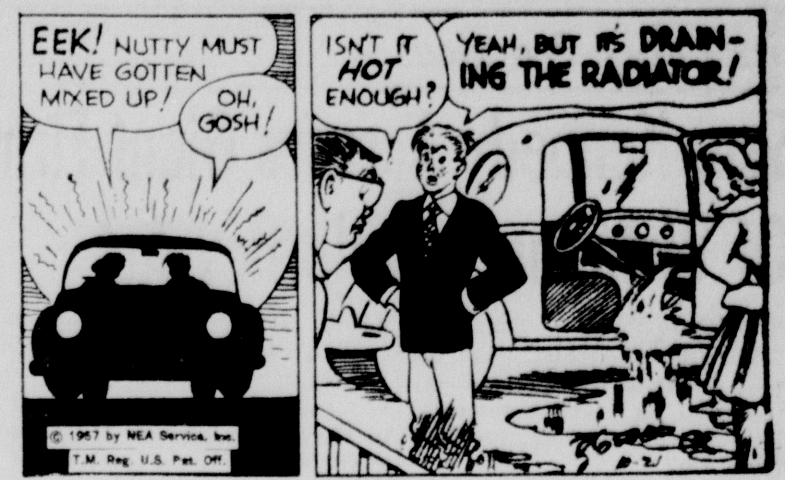

Tom started the engine and then drove into the hills and around by the bay. The road passed close to Grant Melville's. As they neared it Sarah put a hand on Tom's sleeve. "Look," she said, pointing. A thin figure was mounting the steep slope to the left in the direction of Melville's front door. It was Crystabel Dolwin. There was an air of purpose about her.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

They beat Miss Dolwin into the house, and upstairs into the studio, where they retreated behind a model's screen in a corner that commanded a view of the hall and the front door. You could see through the cracks.

Canvases were stacked around the walls of the big untidy room and overflowed out of a cupboard. Some of them were finished, some half done, some only started. Grant Melville had certainly struggled long and hard. He had painted practically everyone in Cornwall. There was a head of Diana Satterlee and a full-length figure of Bob Brown at his handsomest and most arrogant, and Florrie was there, dancing on a lawn, a hefty bacchante with legs out of drawing. It was the studio Miss Dolwin was bound for. She came humming up the path, knocked at the front door, waited half a minute and walked in. She paused in the studio doorway and looked around.

She examined the portraits stacked in a row, paused before a mutilated canvas propped on an old bureau. Most of it had been ripped from the frame; there were just rags and tatters left. She picked it up. Tom stepped out from behind the screen, drawing Sarah with him, an arm around her. "Anything we can do for you, Miss Dolwin?"

How Texas Eastern helps lighten a shaver

Electric shavers are slim, light and handy to handle—thanks to the amazing power output of their tiny, lightweight motors, made of highly-conductive electrical steels. Electric motors of all sizes have been substantially reduced in bulk and cost—with dramatic gains in power and efficiency—through use of these special steels.

Armco Steel Corporation makes these alloys at its Zanesville, Ohio, plant—with an assist from natural gas transported from the Southwest through Texas Eastern's 5900-mile pipeline system. Natural gas-fired furnaces are used by Armco in rolling and annealing because gas can quickly reach an exact temperature and maintain it.

Hits Labor Practices

Sen. Kennedy Accuses Giant Firm Of Violating Taft-Hartley Act

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) of the Senate Rackets Committee today accused the giant Continental Baking Co. of violating the Taft-Hartley Act.

Kennedy said Continental and W. R. Kitchen, head of the firm's Morton Frozen Foods Division, must have been aware they committed unfair labor practices in coercing employees not to join one union and later encouraging them to join another which sought much lower raises.

The senator also charged that the company violated the Taft-Hartley Act by secretly sponsoring what it termed a "spontaneous" committee of workers who successfully fought union organization.

His charge came after witnesses testified that employees of Chicago labor-relations consultant Nathan V. Shefferman helped freeze out the CIO United Packinghouse Workers at Morton's frozen pie plant at Webster City, Iowa. They said Shefferman then helped the Bakery Workers Union to organize the Morton plant and write a "very poor" contract without consulting the employees.

"A Great Responsibility" "Morton and Continental have a great responsibility to bear in the activities," Kennedy said.

His brother, the committee's counsel, Robert F. Kennedy, said the Morton firm, before it merged with Continental, was in "clear violation" of the Taft-Hartley Act by trying to fire employees who favored the United Packinghouse Workers.

A worker, Gary Long, testified that the Morton Packing Co. secretly ordered him to form a "spontaneous" committee of workers to prevent the UPW from organizing its Webster City, Iowa, plant in 1955.

But later, he said, the company cooperated with the Bakery Workers Union in recruiting members and signing a three-year contract which gave a raise of only five cents an hour.

A Packinghouse Workers official said his union wanted raises of 20 to 46 cents an hour for the Morton workers.

Rejects Company Request

Long said one employee of Shefferman's firm, Labor Relations Associates, worked with him to fight the Packinghouse Workers and another later signed up members for the Bakery Workers.

Before Long testified, attorneys for the frozen-food firm—now a division of Continental Baking Co.—tried to put the case on ice, claiming the testimony would prejudice their defense against National Labor Board charges filed against the firm by the Packinghouse Workers.

The committee refused. Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said the group tried not to interfere with criminal trials but could not do their work for the outcome of a civil action.

The Morton case was the opening gun in an investigation of Shefferman, 70-year-old Chicago labor relations counsellor to some 300 firms across the nation.

Opposes Management Coercion McClellan said Shefferman's firm was "apparently dedicated to the proposition that no employer need deal with a labor union unfriendly to their interests."

The chairman said the Taft-Hartley Act put restrictions on management as well as labor, and the committee would investigate whether there has been "a deliberate and calculated effort to circumvent and defeat these provisions on behalf of management."

"We feel that the American worker has as much right to be free from management coercion as from labor union coercion in his decision whether or not to join a union," McClellan said.

Committee investigator Pierre Salinger said Shefferman's firm earned $2,481,798 in the six years ending in 1955 and had expenses of $2,379,566.

Salinger said Shefferman drew $246,600 from his firm in the last six years and got another $48,953 from Sears Roebuck and Co. as its staff labor adviser.

In the same period his son, Shelton Shefferman, got $211,808 from Labor Relations Associates, the investigator said.

Medley Receives Army Reserve Award in Chicago

Don Medley, who operates the Western Auto store on South Main street in Harrisburg, was one of 22 members of the Army Reserves to receive Chicago Tribune outstanding achievement awards in Chicago last week.

But, Don didn't get to keep his 24 carat gold medal very long. While in Chicago a piece of metal blew into one of his eyes. He was unable to locate a doctor quickly and came on to Harrisburg before having anything done about it.

While his car was parked by the Harrisburg hospital and while a doctor there removed the metal from his eye, his medal, his uniform and several other articles of clothing were stolen from his car.

Don is a sergeant first class in Headquarters Replacement Battalion No. 347. Two months ago at a military board meeting held in Marion where records and achievements of 12 southern Illinois reserves were examined, he was selected for the honor bestowed in Chicago.

Taking part in the ceremonies were Hugh H. Milton, assistant Army secretary, Senator Dirksen and Governor Stratton.

West Frankfort Man Testifies to $80,000 in Debts

NEW YORK (UP)—George B. Katzenburg, former West Frankfort, Ill., businessman, testified to two debts, totalling $80,000, in a hearing in Federal Court Monday on his petition for bankruptcy.

Katzenburg, formerly president of the Streamline Garment Co. in the Illinois city and presently general manager of a New York apparel firm, was ordered to return on Nov. 6 with further information on his assets and liabilities.

He testified, under questioning by an attorney for the trustee named to handle the proceedings, that he owed $35,000 to his father-in-law, Edward Grotsky. Katzenburg said he borrowed the money in 1952 and invested it in the Streamline Garment Co.

Katzenburg filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy Sept. 4 listing debts of $255,175 and assets of $250.

He testified Monday that he had paid off a loan to the Modern Industrial Bank of New York but could not say when it was paid or how much the loan was for. He said he had "an interest" in the K and F Oil Co. but was unable to say just what that was either.

Adenauer Swept Back Into Office

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was swept back into office today for a third term by an impressive 274-192 vote in the Bundestag, the lower house of parliament.

The 81-year-old leader, devoted to German rearmament, European federation and close cooperation with the West, began his third term in office with an 82-vote majority in parliament.

Army Deserter Is Captured

SANDUSKY, Ill. (AP)—An alleged Army deserter who escaped from the Williamson County jail at Marion with the aid of a hacksaw blade has been captured.

Edward E. Gee, 20, escaped Monday, but was taken into custody a few hours later in a field near here.

He had been held at Marion since Friday on a charge of deserting the Army at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Attends Showing of GE Appliances

Freeman O'Keefe of the O'Keefe Lumber Co., Carrier Mills, attended a showing of 1958 General Electric Appliances at the GE Training Center, St. Louis, Monday.

Products displayed to dealers on Monday and to be on display at the O'Keefe Lumber Co., and other retail stores soon, included electric ranges, refrigerators, home freezers and air conditioners.

Mr. O'Keefe was thrilled with the 1958 line of GE appliances, describing them as "real quality products, the best I have ever seen."

Fined

Ulysses Huff of Marion yesterday was fined $50 and costs by Justice of the Peace O. L. Woods. Huff, arrested by city police when he failed to stop a truck he was driving at a flashing school light, was found to be driving while his driver's license was under revocation.

SIU Mathematical Genius Assigned to Army Clerking Job

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—The Army drafted an "outstanding mathematical genius" and assigned him to a job of clerking. Dr. Karl Lindegren, Southern Illinois University geneticist, said today.

Lindegren, director of the biological research laboratory at SIU, said his former assistant, Ernest Shult, 24, was drafted last April 16 for two years military service. He was assigned as a clerk in headquarters company, Ft. Lee, Va., Lindegren said.

He described Shult as the "outstanding mathematical genius I have encountered in 30 years of scientific research."

"This is exactly the kind of thing the Russians are not doing," Lindegren said. "They are searching out their talent."

"If that's the way the Army is going to use its talent, it's no wonder we have fallen behind in our missile program."

Lindegren said Shult developed a new theory of genetical analysis, and had written several articles published in British and Dutch journals.

"We need him very badly here, and the Army needs him worse," Lindegren said. "But if they are going to waste his talent, he might as well be back where he can be of use."

Convicted Killer Loses Appeal

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Convicted killer Charles Townsend, 23, Chicago, who lost an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, will die in the electric chair Nov. 22.

Townsend was convicted in Cook County Criminal Court for the December, 1953, murder of Jack Boone in Chicago. Then only 19, Townsend was a narcotics addict; the killing occurred during a robbery attempt.

The Illinois Supreme Court set the execution date late Monday.

New Mission Church Forms In Harrisburg

The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints became a district mission at a special meeting Oct. 12. The meeting was presided over by district president, Elder Russell Ellis, and missionary Cecil Robbins. Officers were appointed by Elder Ellis.

At the present time, the Marion branch of the church is worshipping with the Harrisburg mission due to the moving and remodeling of the church building in Marion. Everyone is invited to attend the worship services at 10 East O'Garra street, Harrisburg.

Circuit Clerk Back At Work After Illness

James R. Burroughs, Saline county circuit clerk, is back at work this week after being ill with pneumonia. He was away from his job two weeks.

The territory of New Mexico, which became a state in 1912, once included much of present day Arizona, which was called "Arizona Country, New Mexico." The two territories were separated in 1865, during the Civil War.

Gov't Optimistic In Spite of Slumping Stocks

By United Press

The government remained optimistic today in the face of a slumping stock market. It said the national income is getting bigger all the time.

The Commerce Department said "a further rise is clearly indicated for the third quarter" of the year. Asked to elaborate, a Department spokesman said the forecast was based on preliminary reports of the "wage and profits picture" for the third quarter.

The report Monday said the national income was running at a new annual high of 375 billion dollars on June 30, continuing a rise

Fire Chief L. G. Martin said that most of the furniture was removed from the Stokich house. He said that nobody was at home when the fire was discovered.

Martin said Bill Stokich, brother of the occupant, said that when he was moving out furniture he saw the fire first in the attic, which led Martin to say the fire apparently was caused by a defective flue or defective wiring.

A foot in the door... with vitamins

If a peddler rings your bell and tries to sell you some vitamins, here's something you should bear in mind. He's a trained salesman. He'll sound convincing. But chances are he's not a physician or a pharmacist. He's no judge of your health, and there's no way he can know what sort of vitamins or nutritional supplements you need—if you need any at all. So, it's just common sense to get professional medical advice before you spend your money.

- THANKS -

We wish to thank all our good farmer customers of Saline County and surrounding area for their confidence in us and the products we sell.

All of you who purchased IHC TRACTORS, COMBINES and HAY BALERS helped George and his wife to win a free vacation trip to California and all the Hawaiian Islands.

The whole vacation is being paid for by the International Harvester Company. All the tractors, combines and hay balers counting in the contest were purchased and sold through the ELDORADO STORE and the contest was from Nov. 1, 1956, to Sept. 21, 1957.

George Says: "These are busy times to be taking a vacation, but I have not had one since opening the Eldorado Store and since it is a FREE trip my wife says to start packing."

"Sales of CORN PICKERS, TRACTORS, etc., will continue as usual by our good salesmen and your true friends, John McKinley and Bruce McGuire. All sales will be final. Any policy matters will be referred to John Scherrer at Ridgway."

"We hope to be back Nov. 1 and forget our troubles until then."

Many of our farmer customers have told us how pleased they are with their new tractors, Hay Balers and Combines. We know you will be just as happy and pleased with a NEW CORN PICKER and any other equipment which we sell you and service.

Farmers have learned that it pays to trade with their local IHC dealers where they can get good expert service when they need it.

We can furnish you with any type New or Used CORN PICKER you may need today.

Evashevski Says Illinois May Be Unable to Get Homecoming Tilts

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (UP)—It's getting to the point where Illinois won't be able to schedule a home football game unless "they guarantee it won't be homecoming." Iowa's Coach Forest Evashevski told the Coach's Wailing Wall today. "They taught me a lesson I've never forgotten in 1938," the former Michigan star said. "We were No. 1 in the nation and nobody could touch us, they kept telling us, and we went down there and they beat us, 16-7. I've never forgotten it. Anybody you play can beat you.

"That was their homecoming game, too. Through the years they've been tough on homecoming. We went down there unbeaten in four games and they lost three and tied Bradley Tech."

Evashevski wasn't the victim of the Illinois homecoming upset this year. Minnesota was, and Coach Murray Warmath, who was previously unbeaten, said "they just outplayed us in every department." Ray Eliot of Illinois declared "It was just a great team effort."

Evashevski, whose team beat Wisconsin, praised his opponents as "a pretty good ball club. We had to play our best ball. We should have passed a little more, but we just wanted to stay on the ground and so we ran the flanks." Another upset victim, Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State, said "We fumbled 10 times and lost the ball five. We made a lot of mistakes, probably because we were trying too hard. But Purdue was all fired up, and they played up to their full capacity."

Jack Mollenkopf of the Boiler-makers agreed that his club played its best game, but he said "it was the first time this year we've had our two top tackles. Our defense played a tremendous game, and we held on to the ball. I think our guys made a lot of their fumbles with hard hitting."

Ara Parseghian of Northwestern declared his boys played "their best game of the year in effort," but he was unhappy about a 15 yard penalty called on him. "It was right before the end of the half," he said, "and we'd just completed a pass and our receiver fell out of bounds right in front of me. The movies show all I was doing was clapping my hands and shouting encouragement and the referee came over and called me for coaching from the sidelines and penalized us 15 yards. That killed that drive."

Milt Bruhn of Wisconsin declared Evashevski's Big Ten champions "are better by a country mile than they were last year at this time. To me, they were tremendous. They're good defensively and they've got better backs than they had a year ago."

Woody Hayes was proud of his football team because it "reduced our mistakes and we were very business-like. I think the kids did a fine job." The Buckeye's victim, Bob Hicks of Indiana, thought so too, but he said "we did things a good high school team doesn't do. What hurts is that all these kids instead of getting better are getting worse with all these losses."

The southern Illinois scoring race, which had been a waltz for Eldorado's Lester Fequay during the first five weeks of the grid campaign, became a tight affair over the past week end.

Fequay appeared to be "home free" with a whopping 54-point spread before the Friday night action. And then he added 24 to his total to run up 152 points for six games.

But Larry Hiller of Zeigler had an unbelievable night, racing to a record 61 points as his team stomped Elkhart 79-6.

Unofficially, the scoring race as of now has Fequay in front with 152 and Hiller close in second place with 135 points.

Not exactly grammatically correct, but certainly from the heart, was the reply by one of the Eldorado gridders to a remark by a fan after Eldorado's close win, 26-0 from West Frankfort. The Eagle fan offered congratulations, then said, "You guys sure had me worried." A grinning, happy player, called back, "We had us worried."

Larry Kane of Carmi paced Millikin to undisputed possession of first place in the College Conference of Illinois Saturday with a 28-14 victory over Lake Forest.

Kane, quarterback and captain of the Millikin gridders, scored two of the TDs.

The winning Millikin team counts three Carmi graduates on its squad and Don Shroyer the coach led Carmi high school to football glory during a five-year hitch before going into the college coaching ranks.

Kane, a cousin of Eddie and Joan Seright of Harrisburg, has visited here on many occasions and is well known in Harrisburg.

Jerry Wright, graduate of the Carmi high school, has been elected captain of the University of Indiana gymnastics team for the 1957-58 season. A senior, Wright competes in four events—tumbling, trampoline, side horse and parallel bars.

Indiana Coach Otto Ryser says of Wright, "Jerry is a hard worker and very dependable. His teammates have made a fine selection. He is a credit to our team."

South Seven conference teams broke even against non-league opponents Friday night. Centralia won a close 7-6 decision from Salem, West Frankfort dropped a 26-20 game to Eldorado and Benton tied with Cairo 7-7.

One game was played in the five-team Southern Illinois conference and in three non-loop games only Eldorado was a winner. Metropolis and Norris City of the SI dropped decisions.

Ben Chamness, formerly an assistant coach at Harrisburg high school, was a spectator at the Eldorado-at-West Frankfort football tussle Friday night.

Ben stated he is doing graduate work at Murray State and also looking over high school football talent.

A busy boy at the West Frankfort football games is Lon Eubanks, editor of the WF high school newspaper and also a member of the band. As newspaper editor Lon has a spot in the press box and gives the game full coverage.

He plays with the band in pre-game ceremonies, then hurries to the press box as the game starts. As the half nears Lon really gets busy.

With other band members getting in place for the regular half-time program and maybe two or three minutes of playing time remaining, Lon begins to slide towards the door, taking notes on the run. Then he races off, calling back that he will want someone to give him a "fill in" on the last minute or so of action when he returns to the press box for the start of the second half.

South Seven Teams Break Even In Thrilling Non-Loop Games

Three thrilling non-conference games and two one-sided affairs within the conference marked South Seven competition last Friday night.

South Seven schools emerged from non-loop battles with an even break—a victory, a defeat and a tie—in three of the most interesting games on the southern Illinois grid menu.

In league competition the loop leading Herrin Tigers ran over Harrisburg 41-6 and winless Marion fell before Mt. Vernon 58-0.

Gaining the conference's only win against outside competition was Centralia, 7-6, over Salem. West Frankfort dropped a thriller, 26-20, to Eldorado and Benton battled Cairo to a 7-7 deadlock.

Charles Bona, son of the great "Mud" Bona of a generation ago, scored four TDs as Herrin took over the undisputed possession of the South Seven lead with a 41-6 victory at the expense of Harrisburg. Herrin is at the top of the conference by virtue of having played one more game than Centralia.

Fast Start By Rams
Herrin scored early, holding a 13-0 quarter advantage, and was in command throughout.

At Mt. Vernon the Rams gave the home town fans plenty to cheer about early by scoring 25 points in the opening quarter against Marion.

Glen Fleming, who was sidelined a week ago with a leg injury, got the Rams off to an early start with a 70 yard run and in the second frame raced 90 yards for a TD.

After the 25-point first quarter, Mt. Vernon scored 6 points in the second, 20 in the third and seven in the fourth and final frame.

A successful conversion by Bob Hight spelled the difference as Centralia won over Salem 7-6, in the annual Shrine game between the two schools.

The game was featured by hard tackling, vicious blocking and all

Bull Pups Lose To Herrin, 40-7

The Harrisburg Bull Pups lost 40-7 to the Herrin freshman-sophomore football team at Herrin last night.

Lone Harrisburg touchdown came on a 68-yard run by Larry Wise on a quick-opener through the line from the T formation. Wise also ran for the extra point.

Herrin made the count 6-0 in the first quarter when Jerry McSpadden went through from the six and this same player made the next tally on a four-yard gain in the second period with Notsinger carrying for the extra point.

Wise's run made the score 13-7 but McSpadden raced 15 yards to score and Crawshaw ran for the extra point to give Herrin a 20-7 halftime lead.

McSpadden and Crawshaw went over for third period touchdowns and Notsinger went over for the final tally in the final stanza.

Although other boys got into the game, the following boys saw the most action for Coach Jim Beers' Bull Pups: John Donovan, Alfred Johnson and Greg Neeley at ends, Jerry Kane and John Pickford at tackles, Steve Frantz, James Roberts and Kenneth Smith at guards, John Ellis and Larry Browder at center and Larry Ledford, John Stone, Larry Wise, Jerry Barter, and Larry Conrad in the backfield.

Deaths Blamed On Flu Climb

Epidemic Hits Crippled Children's Center at Peoria

By United Press
Deaths blamed on flu climbed toward the 250 mark today, boosted by an influenza epidemic at a California school for retarded children that killed nine persons.

The epidemic at the Porterville, Calif., State Hospital for the Mentally Retarded was the third fatal outbreak to hit such state institutions.

A United Press survey showed a total of 249 persons have died of flu or complications since last summer when the first cases of Asian flu were diagnosed in the nation and its territories.

The highest death toll was in New York with 55 victims. Pennsylvania was a close second with 50 deaths, 24 of them in the Lehigh Valley area. California's toll climbed to 29.

Lists Flu Fatal
Elsewhere, Michigan reported 26 flu-caused deaths, Louisiana 21, Illinois 13, Hawaii 9, Ohio, Utah and Wisconsin 7 each, Iowa and Kentucky 6 each, Colorado 5, New Jersey 3, and one each in Indiana, Oklahoma, Oregon, Washington and the District of Columbia.

The California State Hospital outbreak claimed five lives last week and four more over the week end. The latest victims were two boys and a girl and a 47-year-old woman.

A flu epidemic at the Pennhurst School for the Mentally Retarded near Philadelphia killed 11 patients, and another outbreak in a state school at Dixon, Ill., resulted in seven deaths.

A flu epidemic broke out at the Crippled Children's Center in Peoria, Ill., forcing authorities to close its pre-school department. Illinois officials reported 1,059 inmates stricken with flu at four state institutions.

Pupil-Placement Topped

Virginia Seeks New Means to Preserve Segregation in Schools

RICHMOND, Va.—Officials sought new means today to preserve the state's tradition of racial segregation in the schools.

The U. S. Supreme Court Monday topped the state's pupil-placement law, designed as the keystone in Virginia's program of "massive resistance" to court-ordered integration.

Gov. Thomas B. Stanley said the state would "continue to use every legal and proper means" to block integration attempts. He said there were other weapons at hand. Stanley apparently referred to companion laws to the pupil-placement plan, which would automatically close integrated schools and withdraw state funds from schools that do integrate.

Cited Laws
However, both a federal district court and the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals cited those laws as the reason for striking down the pupil-placement act.

Attorney General Kenneth C. C. Patton refused comment on the high court's action until he conferred with Stanley and lawyers who handled the case, probably in the next few days.

Still unanswered was the question of what if any effect the court's action might have on the state's gubernatorial election Nov. 5, in which the dominant issue has been the best means of assuring continued school segregation.

J. Lindsay Almond, the Democratic candidate who is a former U. S. attorney general, said the Supreme Court's refusal to review a lower court ruling ordering integration in Newport News and Norfolk would not "change my position one iota."

Will Help Party
And Horace E. Henderson, Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor, said the High Court stand "will definitely give us (the Republicans) a tremendous spurt."

Republican gubernatorial candidate Ted Dalton said the Supreme Court had struck a "death blow" to the present segregation program and called for a special session of the General Assembly to enact new laws to cope with every attempt to integrate.

Negro attorneys hailed the court decision, but refused to say whether they would press the courts to set a deadline for integration to begin. Federal Judge Walter E. Hoffman had ordered Norfolk and Newport News to end segregation by last September, but said he would not order integration in the middle of a school term.

The stickleback fish has the peculiar habit of building muff-shaped nests of sticks and roots for receiving the spawn.

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome loose, false teeth. FASTEETH, an improved powder, sprinkled on upper and lower plates holds them tighter so that they feel more comfortable. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug counter.

53 Unbeaten Teams, Including 8 Major Powers

NEW YORK (UP)—A total of 53 college football teams, including eight major powers, remain unbeaten and untied at the season's halfway mark.

A United Press survey revealed today that the only major college elevens with spotless records are Duke, Mississippi, Texas A & M, Iowa, Oklahoma, Dartmouth, Auburn and Notre Dame. Oklahoma, of course, is working on a record 44-game winning streak.

West Chester, Pa., State Teachers is the highest scorer of the 53 teams with 202 points in five games.

Pittsburgh, Kan. Teachers and Eastern New Mexico have won the most games—six each—while Juanita, Pa., and Prairie View, Tex., have won two each.
